NEW ECONOMY JOBS PROGRAM APPLICATION

INSTRUCTIONS - DO NOT MAIL

Complete form and mail an original and a copy to addresses indicated below. Once reviewed and if approved the Delaware Division of Revenue will mail Certification with Tax Credit Forms and Instructions.

The Secretary of Finance shall annually review the certification of qualified employers for eligibility for New Economy Jobs Program credits before credits are allowed.

For any single calendar year subsequent to its first certified year in which a qualified employer hires and employs no fewer than 50 additional qualified employees in new eligible jobs, the qualified employer may:

- Elect to treat such additional qualified employees either as an addition to its existing number of qualified employees under its existing certification; or
- Make a separate application pursuant to this section and § 2083 of this title for certification and credits with respect to such additional qualified employees.

No qualified employee in any certified year who was employed in Delaware in the base year by a member of an affiliated group which conducted or conducts business in this State during the base year or any year thereafter shall be counted as newly hired or employed qualified employees or qualified employees in new eligible jobs for purposes of calculating the New Economy Jobs Program credits.

Qualified Employee	"Qualified Employee" means a common-law employee employed in an eligible job in this State.
Qualified Employer	"Qualified Employer" means an employer certified to be eligible for New Economy Jobs Program credits under this subchapter.
Qualified Retained Employer	"Qualified Retained Employer" means an employer certified to be eligible for New Economy Jobs Program credits under this subchapter and within the 3-year period prior to certification: a. The employer has gone through a corporate restructuring; and b. The employer, a predecessor of the employer or a member of the employer's affiliated group had its principal executive office located within this State, and at the time of certification: 1. A. Is a publicly-traded company with its business focused on agricultural seed and crop protection products; and B. Identifies the address of its principal executive offices as being located within this State; or 2. A. Is a publicly-traded company with its business focused on nutrition and health, industrial biosciences, safety and protection and/or electronics and communications; and B. Identifies the address of its principal executive offices as being located within this State.
Base Year	"Base Year" shall mean the calendar year immediately preceding a qualified employer's first certified year.
Brownfield	"Brownfield" shall have the meaning set forth in § 9103 of Title 7.
Certified Year	"Certified Year" shall mean a calendar year for which an employer is certified to be eligible for New Economy Jobs Program credits under this subchapter.
Eligible Job	"Eligible Job" means any single position held by a common-law employee in this State for which the compensation equals or exceeds the salary threshold. More than 1 consecutive employee may perform an eligible job during a single calendar year so long as the total compensation of all consecutive employees performing such eligible jobs during such calendar year equals or exceeds the salary threshold.
Salary Threshold	"Salary Threshold" means the amount of Delaware sourced compensation paid to a common law employee, rounded to the nearest $100, calculated by multiplying $112,200 as adjusted pursuant to 30 Del. C. § 515 times the inflation adjustment factor.
Vital Employee	"Vital Employee" means a common-law employee employed in a vital job in this State.
Vital Job	"Vital Job" means any single position held by a vital employee in this State.
