GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS
FORM 1049W99701

Section 537 of Title 30 of the Delaware Code provides that no credit or refund will be made to any employer if the employer was required and deducted Delaware withholding taxes from its employees. In such cases the employee must file a Delaware personal income tax return to claim the over withheld income taxes. An employer is permitted to request a refund of Delaware withholding only when such amount was overpaid and not withheld from its employees.

Generally, refunds of withholding taxes are not issued until the annual reconciliation is filed. Most overpayments are applied by the use of filing amended returns and applying the overpayment to offset an existing or future liability for the current year. However, if the overpayment is excessive, use the Claim for Revision Form 1049W99701 to request consideration of a refund of the overpayment during the calendar year. You may also use this form if after filing your W-3 Reconciliation you find that an error was made on an employee's W-2 or on the amounts reported as being paid or other error made on the original filing of the W-3. Be sure to complete all information requested on this form. Do not send duplicate copies of all your W-2s; send only the W-2s on which a correction was made to the Delaware information. You do not need to file a corrected W-2 with us if only the Federal information is being corrected.

Use the Monthly or Quarterly Amended returns in your coupon booklet if only one return needs to be amended.

The Claimant believes that this claim should be allowed for the following reasons: (Attach an additional sheet if needed.)
